West Powersto Approach Molotov on Red Demands

Violence broke out on the picket line at the Univis Lens Co. in Dayton, O., as 317 production workers tried to shove their way past the pickets into the strike-bound plant. Here police take into custody, with some difficulty, Marilyn Hasselbeck, who was arrested on suspicion. The picket line was being maintained at Univis by the United Electrical Workers Union (C.I.O.) despite the fact it lost right to represent Univis workers as bargaining agent. (NEA Telephone)

Police and Pickets Clash Again at Univis Lens Co.

Dayton, O., July 28 (AP)—Police and pickets clashed again today at the strike-bound Univis Lens Co. plant and an undetermined number of persons was reported injured.

The police radio reported a car load of injured had been taken to Miami Valley Hospital. Among the injured was Lou Kaplan, international organizer of the C.I.O. United Electrical Workers.

The union has been resisting the company's efforts to reopen the plant under police protection.

Police also said a number of demonstrators had been taken into custody.

Police Chief R. F. Wurstner, who had nearly 100 policemen on duty at the plant, said his men had been placed on two 12-hour shifts.

His action followed renewed violence along a C.I.O. United Electrical Workers picket line yesterday when Univis employees, answering a back-to-work call by the company, tried to enter the plant.

Yesterday policemen pierced the 200-person picket line with a flying wedge. They formed a corridor through which non-striker returned to work. One employee was struck by a picket, who managed to dodge past the police detail.

The Univis plant had been strike-bound since May 3 last Friday, on a National Labor Relations Board election. Local 678 of the C.I.O. United Electrical Workers Union was dismissed, 302 to 272, as a bargaining agent for Univis employees.

Yesterday 300 hourly rated employees had returned to work. The plant normally employs around 650 workers.

$18,669,299 Fund; Polio Cases Tripled

New York, July 28 (AP)—The net collection in the 1948 March of Dimes campaign was $18,669,299.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, who announced the figure yesterday, said half the sum had been allotted to the organization's national headquarters here. The headquarters allotment will be used for research and education projects and polio epidemic aid.

The other half went to foundation chapters to pay for services to local polio victims. O'Connor said that so far this year, three times as many cases have been reported as were reported in the same period last year.

Motor Equipment Of Phone Company Damaged by Fire

Short Circuit Believed to Have Started Fire in Company Garage on Bruyn Avenue

A fire apparently started by a short circuit damaged the interior and motor equipment of the New York Telephone Company garage at 81 Bruyn avenue early this morning.

The blaze is believed to have originated in a light truck, one of the 32 vehicles in the garage at the time, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said today. Extent of the damage will be determined later through cooperation of company officials, the chief said.

Two trucks and three engines answered the alarm at 4:25 a. m., and Chief Murphy said that the firemen from central station were held up for several minutes by a West Shore freight, but the units from Wiltwyck and Wicks Engine Company arrived without delay.

The light truck in which the fire apparently started, and another larger truck, were badly damaged, and the intense heat and smoke caused some damage to virtually every other vehicle in the garage.

Chief Murphy said, "The fire practically burned itself out through lack of oxygen in the building, but if a window had blown it would have been a serious fire."

No fire was visible anywhere in the building when the firemen arrived, the chief reported, but there was intense heat and a heavy condensation of vapor inside.

Frank Phinney, an employee of the telephone company, notified police headquarters at 4:20 a. m., that all communication lines from the building had "gone out," and requested the police to check the building frequently.

Officers Edward Leonard and George Bowers went to the building in a patrol car and at 4:23 a. m., reported that the windows "were very hot" and there was water on the sills. Both the telephone company and fire department were notified.

The water on the windows was first believed to have been from a sprinkler system, but Chief Murphy said the building had none, and it was thought to be from a broken pipe.

Equipment in the garage included seven linemen's trucks, two sedans and a fleet of lighter trucks used for trouble shooting. Glass was broken in several of the vehicles and nearly all were badly smeared and damaged on the outside.

Chief Murphy said, after a tour of the building this morning, that the truck in which the fire apparently started must have "burned like a torch," and spread heat and flames to the larger trucks near it. The roof of the building was "badly charred," he said. Firemen remained at the building until 6:05 a. m.

Smith to See Clay

Berlin, July 28 (AP)—Commandants of the western Allies in Berlin today answered with a flat "no" increased Soviet pressure to destroy the blockaded city's elected government.

The three commandants sent a letter to Frau Louise Schroeder, mayor of Berlin, countermmanding two Russian orders aimed at seizing control of the city government.

Subsequently Mayor Schroeder sent a letter to the Soviet commandant, Maj. Gen. Alexander Koltov, informing him that the city's constitution and inter-Allied laws forbade her to obey the Russian orders.

U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, who is in Berlin, may confer with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, today before returning to Moscow with western power proposals for settling the German crisis. Smith said he would remain in Berlin until tomorrow.

The commandants advised Mayor Schroeder that the Soviet order to fire Socialist Johannes Stum, deputy police president, was invalid. They also told her that the Soviet commandant had no jurisdiction.

Second Blast in Year at Indiana Kills 13 Miners

Plant Employing 1,000 Persons Appears to Have Been Wrecked Completely

Princeton, Ind., July 28 (AP)—Grim inspectors probed the depths of King's coal mine today seeking to learn the cause of an explosion which killed 13 miners yesterday afternoon.

It was the second serious explosion in eight months at King's. The previous blast, last November, caused no deaths but was followed by extensive fires which closed the mine for more than two months.

The mine had been closed again last week because of water seepage. It had been inspected Sunday by state mine inspectors and had been reopened only yesterday.

Two men were injured critically in yesterday's blast, and a rescue worker also was in a hospital after being overcome by gas. Two other miners were given first aid for slight injuries.

The dead and injured were members of a single loading unit which was on the lowest level of Indiana's deepest shaft mine, 433 feet underground, and three miles east of the tipple.

Coroner C. C. Cooper said all the bodies were badly mutilated and burned. All were brought out within three hours after the explosion.

Workers from other parts of the mine and from nearby shafts moved quickly to the rescue.

There were 176 men in the mine at the time, but other crews were not endangered.

Joseph N. Potts, 45, safety inspector for the mine, said he was working in the area, 50 feet from the scene of the explosion, and was knocked unconscious by the blast. He was not injured seriously.

"It was a helluva blast," Potts said. "I don't know what could have caused it."

Sabotage Shouted by Democrats

G.O.P. Leaders Willing to Let the Voters Decide at Election in November

Dewey Consulted

Priority Will Be Given to the Civil Rights Legislation

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, July 28 (AP)—The Republicans running Congress steered President Truman's special session program today toward a civil rights filibuster almost certain to scuttle it.

And as the G.O.P. leaders laid plans for a speedy adjournment, they announced complete willingness to let the voters decide in November whether they had done the right thing.

Democrats promptly shouted "sabotage." They accused the majority party of setting out deliberately to wreck the President's program for anti-inflation and housing legislation which he pleaded for yesterday to avert "another great depression."

Privately some Republicans questioned the wisdom of their leaders' strategy, which G.O.P. Senator Robertson of Wyoming said had been arrived at after consultation with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the party's presidential nominee.

Robertson emerged from a meeting of the Senate's Republican policy committee late yesterday and told newsmen Chairman Taft of Ohio had relayed the advice from Dewey to "stay around a week or so and then go home."

This report was relayed in turn to James C. Hagerty, Dewey's press secretary, at Pawling, N. Y. Hagerty at first said Dewey had no comment but a little later announced:

"The governor feels that the Congress should stay in Washington and give careful consideration to whatever was proposed in the President's message."

Dewey Consulted

Taft meanwhile was telling reporters that there has been more or less consultation with Dewey but no in detail.

The Ohio senator, who lost to Dewey in the presidential nomination race, was asked whether there had been any advice about adjournment after a week or so. Taft's reply was tart:

"He was consulted and that's all I have to say. I'm not going to quote him on it."

The G.O.P. decision to give top priority to civil rights legislation instead of to the anti-inflation measures asked by Mr. Truman was announced in a joint statement by Senate and House leaders.

After blasting the special session call as a "political maneuver" in Mr. Truman's election campaign, the Republican chiefs promised "consideration" of the President's proposals and plans to wind up the session "as soon as possible."

"That means, members said, within a few weeks.

Here's what they said they will do:

Take up in the Senate—perhaps today but probably tomorrow—an anti-polit tax bill already passed by the House and fiercely opposed by southern Democrats.

Mr. Truman, without naming it, asked for such a bill yesterday when he urged action on his February civil rights program calling for anti-polit tax, anti-lynching and a anti-discrimination legislation, among several other things.

Set to Filibuster

Southerners who bolted the Democratic National Convention in opposition to the civil rights platform said they are all set to filibuster, although only one of them used that term.

Senator Huey (D.-N.C.) told a reporter "we are ready to speak any civil rights bill to death." Then he added:

"The southerners are lining up to filibuster."

The parliamentary cards appeared to be all in Dixie hands. Actually, the anti-polit tax bill is not yet before the Senate. And a new legislative day is at hand.

If those factors were not true, the Senate theoretically at least

Three Po'keepsie Men Arrested in Highway Thefts

Police Say Goods Worth Thousands of Dollars Recovered After Investigation

Poughkeepsie, July 28 — Three local men are under heavy bail in connection with alleged theft of thousands of dollars worth of materials from the New York State Highway Department storehouse on Dutchess Turnpike.

Rabies Council Gives Strong Warning to Keep Dogs Home

A communication from the Rabies Advisory Council today stressed the importance of all dog owners observing the regulations made to stem the spread of the disease common to pets and other domestic and wild animals.

The directive specified that all dog owners are required to confine their animals to their own premises or keep them under control by a leash, also, that any dog warden or other person will not be held liable for damages in confining or destroying a dog, found running at large provided all the facts relating to the incident are reported immediately to the health department.

Here is the communication received by The Freeman today:

Since a number of dogs still are being permitted to run at large, the Ulster County Rabies Advisory Council wishes to clear up the apparent misunderstanding which exists concerning the status of all dogs in Ulster county under the present rabies quarantine.

Under the Public Health Rabies Law all dog owners are required to confine their dogs to their own premises, except under the following two conditions: a dog may be taken out on a leash only if accompanied by an individual capable of controlling the dog; and secondly a dog may be taken on another person's property only with the property owner's consent.

All dog wardens throughout the county have been notified concerning these regulations of the Public Health Law. Therefore, it is entirely within the jurisdiction of the dog warden and it is his duty to confine or if necessary destroy, any dog found running at large. Further, the Public Health Law specifically states that dog owners who allow their dogs off their premises are liable for this violation.

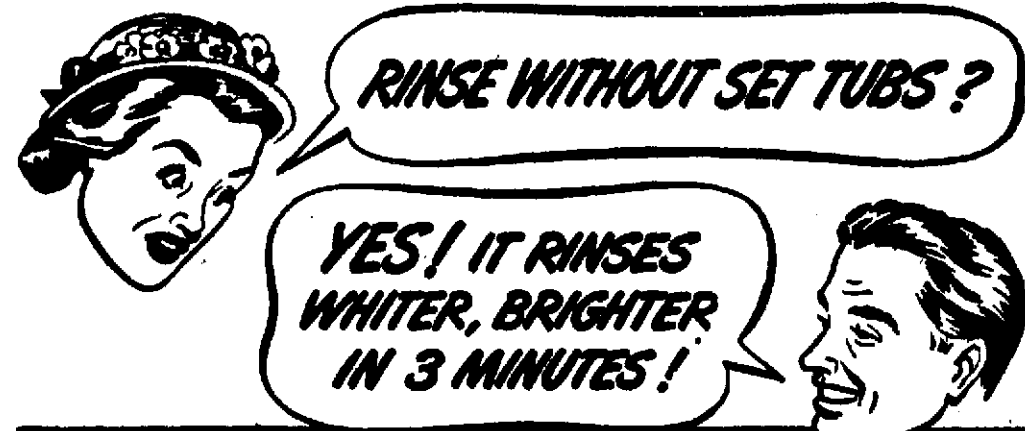

Any dog warden, or any other person who finds it necessary to confine or destroy a dog found running at large in violation of the present rabies quarantine, will not be held liable for damages providing the incident and all the facts relating to the incident, are reported immediately to the local health department commissioner.

G.O.P. 'Reserves' 900 Federal Jobs

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Republicans pasted a "reserved for G.O.P." label today on some 900 federal jobs.

"The Senate does not intend to consider nominations," the party's Congressional leaders said last night in outlining their program for the special session.

That means hundreds of postmasters, federal judges and others whose appointments have not been confirmed face a short-lived job expectancy—if the Republicans succeed in putting Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the White House next year.

The decision not to take up now any nominations passed over during the regular session is an extension of an informal agreement by the G.O.P. high command last May. At that time they reportedly passed the word on to key committee chairmen not to approve any further major appointments by President Truman.

However, Mr. Truman can keep his selections in office until next year under interim appointments.

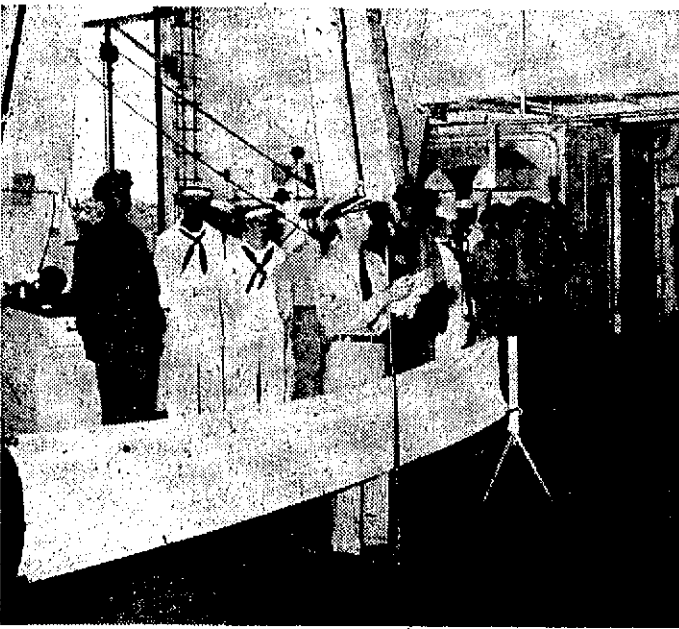

Among the major federal posts possibly at stake is that of Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy Commission, whose regular appointment expires August 1. The Senate extended the terms of the A.E.C. commissioners until June 30, 1950, but it did not specifically name Lilienthal or his four colleagues.

If Dewey is elected in November he thus could replace Lilienthal and the others with men of his own choosing.

Non-Partisan, He Says

New York, July 28 (AP)—State Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick says "President Truman has lifted the issues of inflation and housing 'to the level on which they belong, that of the highest non-partisanship.'" "It would have been easy to make them political issues by postponing action until 1949," Fitzpatrick added. He said yesterday that the President in his message to Congress had "wisely placed primary emphasis on the crises in inflation and housing. All parties," Fitzpatrick said, "should join in immediately enacting President Truman's program."

BOSTON BASEBALL

Followers of big league baseball have been going around lately asking each other if it's true what they may about the Boston Red Sox. After hanging modestly in the middle standing of the American League through most of the current season, the Red Sox suddenly broke out a winning streak which moved them up among the leaders. Moreover some of the professional prognosticators now are voting the Red Sox most likely to be in there fighting it out in the home stretch, come September, with the Cleveland Indians, who have been burning up pitchers' arms like pine logs in January, trying to hang on to their lead.

It may be that the Red Sox have taken sudden inspiration from their fellow townsmen, the Boston Braves, who are leading the National League by a quite comfortable margin. This is notable because the only time the Braves ever won the National League pennant was 34 years ago. Rightly figuring they might not have another World Series chance for a spell, the Braves battered the Philadelphia Athletics down to win the 1914 series in straight games.

The Red Sox, on the other hand, have won the American League pennant half a dozen times, and only once have been beaten in a World Series—by St. Louis in 1946.

What if both Boston teams should be pennant winners this year? It would be the first time Boston ever had the World Series all to itself. And with both teams working from high averages in World Series competition, it might be such a series as is seldom seen.

GOVERNMENT INSURANCE

An estimated hundred billion dollars of National Service Life Insurance has been allowed to lapse by World War II veterans. These lapsed policies are partly responsible for the surplus, variously placed at one to two billions, in the insurance fund in the federal treasury.

The excess money, which has been drawing treasury interest, is to be distributed within about a year in dividends to veterans. Each veteran will receive a dividend based on the amount of premiums paid. The average dividend is expected to be about $100.

Doubtless many policies were defaulted because of the pressure of high living costs on the veterans. In other cases carelessness may be the explanation. The lapsed NSLI policy is not gone forever. It may be reinstated by the veteran, but beginning August 1 qualification by physical examination is required.

LIGHT ON A DARK SUBJECT

Drivers who tell you they can drive best at night are either rare exceptions to the general rule, or they are simply talking through their hats—mostly the latter. Accident statistics do not bear them out; they indicate that it is not only harder, but more dangerous to drive at night. Three out of every five motor vehicle deaths happen after dark, and this in spite of fewer cars on the roads and a yearly average of fewer darkness than daylight hours.

Safety in night driving is entirely a question of visibility, and there are, therefore, only two ways by which night accidents can be reduced. One is to provide increased visibility wherever possible; the other is to acquire the habit of increased caution wherever visibility is below daylight standards.

If that seems over-stressing the obvious, it is only because drivers and pedestrians have allowed themselves to become over-confident. Twenty thousand night-time traffic deaths in a year cannot be laughed away.

The responsibility for adequate street lighting rests squarely with the community concerned. The cost is small compared with the saving in life and property.

Away from city limits, on roads which are not artificially lighted, responsibility rests with individual travelers. Automobile headlights giving the same visibility as normal daylight have not been invented, and motorists must make allowances accordingly. If a driver cannot stop within his headlight

WALLACE OR WAR

The Wallace Convention must be taken seriously even if his adherents look like the side-show of a circus. Of such stuff are the mass movements woven. The hysteria over nothing in Philadelphia, the holy-roller singing of doggerel, the repetition of the words "China and Greece," the Tower-of-Babel-like rhythm of sounds with only emotional content—this is the pattern of the mob, driven by fear or hunger or passion, or just driven because it wants to be driven.

The essence of this movement is Soviet Russia. This was clear not only in the set speeches but in the ugly roar of this gaily traitorous mob. These same people persecuted the Bund, the Christian Front, the Ku Klux Klan. Had anyone done for Hitler what they are doing for Stalin, they would have organized lynching parties. Yet there is no difference between them either in spirit or in purpose. The mob always acts with the same hysteria. And it never knows its direction, except that it hates.

The New Party is in the service of Soviet Russia. It attacks indiscriminately every American who is not in the service of Soviet Russia. It attacks Truman, Dewey, Dulles, Vandenberg, Marshall, Forrestal, General Draper, General Clay—the list is long but it is indiscriminate. The speeches closely followed the line on foreign and domestic policy of The Daily Worker, and The New Times, a weekly publication issued in Moscow and circulating in four languages, including English, in the United States.

These Wallacettes are not Communists, because to be an avowed Communist requires conviction and courage and a religious faith, which, while from my standpoint is wholly wrong, nonetheless must be recognized for what it is. The Wallacettes are not of such stock; they are rather like the swooning adulterers of Rudolph Valentino or Frank Sinatra; they are rather masochists who revel in their umbrages; they are rather like those mystics who follow Father Divine, or those pursuers of the impossible who produced the Ham-and-Eggs and the Townsend movements. Unhappy, clutching to their disabilities, this is their outlet. This New Party for a moment frees their souls from an imprisonment of their own making. They shriek; they shout; their eyes shine fanatically. They are masters of power. Then they sink back to pursuing their griefs.

Lenin never organized such into a force, but Hitler did. For them, Lenin had only contempt and over them he established what he called a dictatorship of the proletariat, held in a trusteeship by an oligarchy of his own devising. Dr. Sun Yat-sen recognized their menace and he organized China into a state of "tutelage," as he called it, with the Kuomintang as trustee and tutor. Kemal Pasha ignored them and frightened them. But Mussolini and Hitler led them into a force which bel dominated, each in his own country, by hypnotic oratory and mannerisms. And both brought their countries to destruction.

In the United States such a movement is particularly menacing because of the heterogeneous character of the American population. The Wallacettes are making a special appeal to the Negroes, of whom there are 13,000,000 in this country and who are growing increasingly discontented over the discrimination by law and custom against them both in the North and the South. When the Temporary Chairman of the Wallace's convention challenged President Truman to issue an Executive Order abolishing Jim Crow in the armed forces, he put his finger on Truman's hypocrisy. For whereas Truman does not like the Negro, he had not dared to abolish this country by law. He had not dared to do it until politics intervened, because he knew that in a time of national crisis, such an act would imperil the national defense.

When Wallace and his cohorts issue such a challenge in our time, the United States, just as Truman's conviction of Congress for this purpose, in special session, strikes not at Dewey but at the United States.

This then is what we face as a people: Wallace, having stimulated Negro rebelliousness, has challenged American history into a treacherous and perilous course.

That Body of Yours

PAIN IN THE NECK

When an attack of sciatica—pain in lower back, hip, back of thigh and lower leg—occurs the first thought now is that it is caused by a rupture or crushing of one of the fibrous discs or cushions between two of the bones of the lower part of the spinal column. As a matter of fact, most physicians still believe that infection—tonsils, teeth, gall bladder—is the commonest cause.

One test as to the cause of sciatica is that if the pain is worse at night when the patient is at rest, infection is the cause whereas if the pain is worse when the patient is on his feet, injury or pressure due to poor posture is the cause. As, however, injury can be followed by infection and infection can be present and upset the above rule.

It is interesting to learn that while most cases of ruptured discs occur at the lower end of the spinal column causing low back pain and sciatica, the same condition, a ruptured disc, can occur at the upper end of the spinal column—that is, in the neck. And just as pain occurs in the lower end, so also does it occur in the upper end. Instead of the pain being in the back and leg, the pain occurs in the neck, shoulder and arm.

In the "British Lancet," Drs. Elmer and Kremer describe eight cases in which there was pain and loss of movement of the neck due to pressure on the nerves leaving the spinal cord to supply neck, shoulder and arm. Thus there was weakness, numbness and loss of use of the muscles of the neck, upper back, shoulder and upper arm.

Fortunately, most of these cases at the upper end of the spinal column can be helped without the need of a surgical operation. Rest in bed with carefully adjusted pillows is necessary in some cases; a few require pulling of the head away from the spine by a harness carrying a weight of 10 to 12 pounds. A well fitting leather or plaster of Paris collar is useful in some cases, as it allows the patient to be up and about. An occasional case may need operation.

While "pain in the neck" is most often due to a draft or even infection, which is relieved by heat and movement, some, as noted above, are caused by pressure on a nerve.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington—A lot of my Southern friends have been telling me I should be awfully careful how I discuss the current political rebellion below the Mason-Dixon line. Undoubtedly they are right.

But, since so many people are already sore because of my nose-poking into all sorts of things, from the high cost of ambassadorships to Secretary of the Treasury Snyder's bibulousness at the President's birthday dinner, I suppose it won't hurt to get a few more people sore. So here goes.

One thing I can't help thinking about the civil-rights row is that the boy who is getting most satisfaction out of it all is Joe Stalin. He and his pals in the Kremlin must be licking their chops—and pumping stuff out over the Moscow radio every day about how Americans are leaping and name-calling over civil rights.

I also can't help thinking that a time when we are very much on the spot in Berlin is a time when we ought to be preserving a reasonably united front back home.

What the Russians Forget
The Russians, of course, don't know—or care—that all things are relative and that we've made a lot of progress in this country. It was only as recently as the 1919-20 post-war period that a horrible massacre of Negroes occurred in East St. Louis, while disgraced lynch riots took place even in the nation's capital.

The present post-war period has been largely free from such violence. And on the same night Birmingham was staging its rebellion, Satchell Paige, Negro pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, pitched against the Washington Senators in the nation's capital and a white batter who tried to unnerve him was booted.

I remember also the great furor created when Oscar De Priest, Republican Negro congressman, was invited to a White House tea in the Hoover administration. The Republicans were supposed to be the champions of the Negro, but so many of them protested and Mr. Hoover got so worried, that Congressman De Priest discreetly stayed away.

In recent Democratic administrations, two Negroes have served consistently in Congress, both Democrats; and Rep. Dawson of Chicago has informed me that his colleagues from the south have treated him with respect and courtesy.

There has been no protest when Negro congressmen were invited to recent White House receptions.

And today in Georgia, a Negro is running for the U. S. Senate against Senator Dick Russell and is free to campaign where he pleases throughout the state. These are things the Soviet propagandists will not mention.

The South's Real Leaders
They also will not mention—and a lot of people have forgotten—that Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, the man now leading the Dixiecrat revolt, is the same Governor Thurmond who got a lot of his own southern white friends boiling mad when he insisted on trying some taxi-drivers for lynching a Negro near Greenville, S. C.

Local sentiment was violently against Governor Thurmond, but he insisted that the men charged with lynching be prosecuted—which they were.

There are a lot of southerners honestly working for fair play in the south. Only they don't like to have reforms rammed down their throats by outsiders. Ellis Arnall, when governor of Georgia, had no trouble getting Georgia to abolish the poll tax. Most Georgians took pride in this, though currently a lot of them have their backs up and if the poll-tax issue came along today they would vote the other way.

What northerners don't always realize is that the Talmages, the Rankins and the Bilbos aren't really typical of the south, and that there are a lot of fine southerners who don't at all share their views.

Anyway, it seems to me we should all work a little harder on both sides of the Mason-Dixon Line at understanding each other.

Wiping Out Mason-Dixon Line

The other day I met a man who has been doing his part at better understanding between the north and the south—a gentleman named Champ Pickens, of Montgomery, Ala., who has organized the Blue and Grey Association. He is trying to get folks who followed the Confederate gray during the Civil War, and those who followed the Federal blue to get together at least once a year at a football game between the all-star team of the north and the all-star team of the south. He stages the game at Montgomery, cradle of the Confederacy, and as many northern folks as possible are invited down to see the game.

Perhaps it might be a good idea for us to stage a lot of things like this—and to think a little more about our own internal problems. We have been giving a lot of thought to friendship abroad—which cannot be neglected—but we must also work at friendship at home—which is equally important.

For instance, most people don't realize that there is no one Memorial day to commemorate the veterans who wore the blue and the grey. Memorial days are crinkled all over the calendar. While the North sets aside May 30, North and South Carolina set aside May 10, Louisiana, Tennessee, and Kentucky June 3, while Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama commemorate April 26.

Therefore, why not pick one day mutually agreeable to the South and pay tribute not only to the fallen heroes of the past, but at that time promote more friendship for the future.

Also, it might be a fine idea for the Rotary clubs, the Kiwanis and Lions clubs, and the Junior Chambers of Commerce, which all do such a good job of promoting worth-while community enterprises, to take up the problem of better understanding between the North and South. If some of the Southern clubs invited Northern clubs down to their cities, and vice versa, a lot of solid friendship might result.

It may seem foolish to say that we need more understanding right here in our own country, but the fact is that we do.

It's not a matter of Democrats or Republicans, but rather of sympathy on both sides and presenting a united front at home at a time when the whole world—especially the Russians—is watching us intently.

Truman Loses Opportunity as President of Statute, Making Political Speech Instead of Persuasive Address

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 28—The man whom the Republicans consider the "worst President in American history" and the man who called the Republican Congress the "worst Congress in history" have now come face to face, and the answer is politics and more politics.

Mr. Truman lost a God-given opportunity to reveal himself as a President of stature—far above the lowly ways of party politics. He could have presented a persuasive message on the essential needs of the country, with a bill of particulars, but instead he just made a paltry political address—almost unashamedly so.

When the President made his speech at the Democratic National Convention two weeks ago he said that Congress could pass needed legislation in about 15 days and still have time for campaigning. But when Mr. Truman talked to Congress, the propaganda opportunities apparently overcame his better judgment. He made a stump speech for the record.

If Congress were to tackle all the proposals made by the President, it would be in session for months, not just weeks. Mr. Truman failed to point out either to the Democratic National Convention or to the Congress that the 79th Congress, which was controlled in both houses by the Democratic party, failed to pass a housing bill, and other important measures for which Mr. Truman now blames the 80th Congress.

After detailing some of his recommendations on prices and housing, the President spoke of "other problems of great moment" and urged that "if the Congress finds time to enact any of them now, the country will greatly benefit—certainly the next Congress should take them up immediately."

Thereupon Mr. Truman made a political speech on what the next Congress, which will be elected in November and begins in January, should do. He urged enactment of the following:

"A comprehensive health program, based on health insurance; a fair and sound labor-management relations law—in place of the Taft-Hartley law which has proved to be unfair and unsound."

For instance, most people don't realize that there is no one Memorial day to commemorate the veterans who wore the blue and the grey. Memorial days are crinkled all over the calendar.

and which should be repealed; a real long-range farm program; a stronger reciprocal trade agreement act; a universal training program; a national science foundation; strengthened anti-trust laws; and approval of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty."

These are things which the President knows are for political consumption. He admits they have little to do with the present Congress. Yet he wonders why he has been so severely criticized for using his high office to advance his own personal ambitions.

Politics can, of course, be utilized to advance the interests of the people. There would have been nothing wrong in calling an extra session if the President had any constructive program to offer. But he called the session just to try to put his political opponents in a hole. His speech shows he has nothing really new to offer. He has, moreover, succeeded in estranging members of the Democratic party, so many of whom voted for the enactment of the Taft-Hartley bill over his veto.

Somehow or another the people do not expect presidents to use presidential messages or personal appearances before Congress to make campaign speeches. No president has ever done it in such explicit terms, and it represents a new low in modern politics.

The Republicans in Congress cannot be absolved from playing politics. They, too, have avoided and evaded. But two wrongs do not make a right. Mr. Truman would have been better advised to have stated in a dignified way the requirements which were immediate and to have requested Congress to act expeditiously on them. A president who discards dignity loses prestige inside and outside his own party.

Whatever advantage in the game of politics there may have been in calling an extra session has been erased by the emptiness of the President's message, its failure to come to grips with essentials, and its plain effort to use the extra session as a campaign sounding board for a campaign.

Such an episode is to be deplored by persons in all parties as tending to undermine faith in the institutions of democracy at a time when men should be rising above personal ambition to strengthen the institutions of democracy. (Reproduction rights reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, July 27—That year we certainly looked like first division, but you absolutely can not run a ball club according to democracy or you will wind up like we did.

Charlie Disenat got us together a real good troupe that Spring, but along toward the Fourth of July the mayor began to get democratic ideas and he sent for poor old Charlie, green as the grass above him, with all his faults he was the sweetest soul you ever met.

"I don't like this discrimination on your club," the mayor said to him. "It is un-American the way you ignore the principles of fair employment."

"Well, how do you like that?" Charlie said. "Do you try to tell you who to hire for judges and waterworks commissioner and how would you like to mind your own business?"

"Oh, very well," the mayor said. "If that is the way you feel, it sounds like the rankest kind of Wall Street Fascism to me and you will soon find that human rights come before corporate greed."

"If you don't comply by ten o'clock tomorrow morning with the people's just demands, be prepared to not play any more games at home because the overwhelming growth of our great city has created a real emergency problem in regard to public safety," he said.

"Roll the dice," Charlie said. "What is your point?"

"My point is that as mayor of our great metropolis by virtue of my emergency powers we will have to condemn your ball-yard for having a parking lot," his honor said to Charlie. "Either that or democracy."

The democracy was that regardless of how good we are going, Charlie had to break up the club and advertise in the papers for a whole new bunch, just like you would hire so many guys to dig a hole. The mayor said that people don't want to see the mayor always fighting for the poor man's battles against the oil monopolies and the dirty, rotten British warm

Soil From Venezuela Yielded New Drug, Hope of Science

BY FRANK CAREY

(A.P. Science Reporter)

Washington, July 28 (AP)—It looked like another day in the laboratories of Yale Scientist Paul Burkholder until a package of soil arrived from Venezuela.

Collected in a mulched field near Caracas, the soil looked no different from any dirt, but in it Dr. Burkholder found something that led to development of a remarkable new drug.

Called "chloromycetin," this drug already has proved the first effective chemical weapon against three fearsome diseases—epidemic typhus, scrub typhus and typhoid fever.

And in test tube and animal tests it has shown great promise against various germs upon which even the "wonder drugs" penicillin and streptomycin have had little or no effect. These include the germs of such maladies as Rocky Mountain spotted fever and mumps (rat-borne) typhus.

Burkholder isolated from the soil a mold-like organism called an actinomycete. This is the same kind of organism which led to streptomycin.

Produced Extract

The organism, when grown in laboratory culture material, produced an extract. Burkholder found that when this was brought in contact with a number of bacteria they failed to grow.

The germs against which he first tested the crude material included the families of bacteria responsible for human tuberculosis, leprosy, anthrax and one type of pneumonia. Other drugs have proven equally promising against these diseases, but further tests may show chloromycetin to be much more effective.

Ever since penicillin was produced in Britain from a common mold organism, and streptomycin was developed from an organism found in the soil of a heavily-manured field near New Brunswick, N. J., the search has been going on.

Active in the search has been Parke, Davis & Co., of Detroit. Burkholder was granted funds to investigate soil samples from all over the world.

The crude extract isolated from the Venezuelan soil turned out to be a bell-ringer. (Although Burkholder's soil sample came from far-away South America, he might have found the organism almost anywhere. In fact, three Illinois researchers later reported isolating the same organism from compost soil at the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Farm at Urbana.)

Bad News for Bacteria
In test-tube tests, Parke, Davis researchers found Burkholder's crude extract to be bad news for a number of other bacteria, including those that cause boils, carbuncles and abscesses, certain nose and sinus infections, dysentery and summer diarrhea and certain forms of blood-poisoning.

This was encouraging—but again other drugs had shown similar activity. Dr. John Ehrlich and colleagues developed a medium in which the culture could be grown. They found, among other things, that it appeared to have activity against "rickettsia."

Now the researchers were really excited. These are organisms midway in size between viruses and bacteria—and, like the viruses, they had largely resisted everything thrown at them.

Later Dr. Quentin R. Bartz and his co-workers purified the extract and obtained the active material in crystalline form. They proposed the name chloromycetin.

In tests on chick embryos infected with germs of typhus fever, the crystalline stuff kept the embryos alive longer than would ordinarily be expected.

Shifts to Washington
Now the scene shifts to the Army Medical Center in Washington—to the laboratories of Dr. Joseph E. Smadel, head of the Department of Virus and Rickettsial Diseases and one of the nation's leading virus experts.

With a woman scientist, Dr. Elizabeth Jackson, three other army researchers and a doctor from the University of Maryland, Smadel wrote some of the following chapters in the story of chloromycetin.

Another was to be written by Dr. Eugene Payne, of Parke, Davis.

These chapters include a medical adventure in Bolivia, where last December Dr. Payne used the drug for the first time in human cases—against epidemic typhus—and found it effective.

They include an episode in Mexico, where Smadel and another army researcher tried the drug against five more cases of epidemic typhus—with "encouraging" results.

They reach a climax in far-away Malaya among coolie plantation workers and other victims of scrub typhus and typhoid. There, close by the jungles, the drug born on the soil of South America scored knockout blows against those two diseases.

Poor old Charlie started to go nuts that very day. We finished absolutely last and the club lost more than a million dollars, but the mayor got elected to the United States Senate. The next day, Charlie ate up a bar of soap and committed suicide, poor fellow, green be the grass above him.

Pretty Boy's Brother Wins

Sallisaw, Okla., July 28 (AP)—E. W. Floyd, brother of the late Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, one-time Public Enemy No. 1, won the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Sequoyah county in the Oklahoma run-off primary yesterday. Complete but unofficial returns indicated Floyd had more than a 1,000 vote margin over incumbent Henry Jones. Floyd led the field in the first primary. His friends, who contributed to newspaper advertising, described his candidacy thusly: "He ain't perfect but he's honest."

Loyalty Program To Be Scrutinized

Washington, July 28 (AP) — A broadscale investigation of the government's loyalty program was promised today by Chairman Rees (R-Kan.) of the House Civil Service Committee.

Rees said his group wants to find out how the various departmental loyalty boards have been functioning since they were set up early last year. No hearing dates have been set but the Kansas indicated they will get under way during the special session.

With about half of the 2,000,000 federal workers checked to date, Rees said F.B.I. investigations have raised doubts as to the loyalty of 5,510 government employees. But, he said, "there is no information available as to what action has been taken by the numerous loyalty boards with respect to these cases."

"The American people are entitled to know whether this program is being carried out as intended by Congress," he added in a statement.

The Kansas lawmaker contended that President Truman showed a "lack of cooperation" in ordering agency heads not to turn over confidential material in their loyalty board files to congressional committees.

Mr. Truman took this action last May to bar Commerce Department records on Dr. Edward T. Condon to the House Un-American Activities Committee which had charged the Bureau of Standards director with being "one of the weakest links in our atomic security."

Public hearings on the charges, which Condon repeatedly has denied, are expected to get underway shortly before the Un-American activities group.

Will Publish Record On Extra Session Votes

New York, July 28 (AP) — A scorecard for voters on the records of New York Congressmen during the extra session of Congress is planned by the Americans for Democratic Action.

Jonathan B. Bingham, New York state A.D.A. chairman, said yesterday the organization will publish in each state congressional district a "state session record" of the activities of state congressmen and their parties.

"We want to be certain," Bingham said in a statement, "that every voter understands what the policies and actions of his spokesmen in this vital session are."

He said members of the Senate and House would be notified of the plan.

Physician Found Dead

New York, July 28 (AP) — Dr. Cyril Barnett, 35, was found dead in his office at 55 East 79th street last night. Detectives said the physician was found reclining on a couch and nearby was an empty vital believed to have held a sleeping potion. Police withheld a ruling on the cause of death pending an inquiry by the chief medical examiner's office. Dr. Barnett's home is at 86 Manchester street, Westbury, L. I.

Hobo: "Yes, I see it."
Woman: "You should mind your grammar. You mean you saw it."

The tactful photographer scanned the print, then looked at the customer.

Dr. G. W. James Praises Hercules On X-ray Project

Personnel of the Hercules Powder Company were X-rayed last week in a survey conducted and financed by the firm. The chest X-ray, as a health measure being incorporated in regular physical examinations given by industries, has proven effective in the detection of chest abnormalities which might otherwise have gone undetected until such time when treatment and probable cure would not have been possible.

According to announcement made by Miss Jennie Lucchese, R.N., plant nurse, 656 employees were X-rayed during the project. Edmund P. Rochford, plant manager and current vice president of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, stated that all employees who were absent or on vacation would be urged to attend the community X-ray survey to be conducted in the city of Kingston beginning October 4 by the Ulster County Health Department with the cooperation of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association using the mobile X-ray unit of the New York State Health Department.

Commenting upon the Hercules project, Dr. George James, Ulster county commissioner of health, stated "such voluntary action on the part of industry is a progressive step in the direction of total eradication of tuberculosis from Ulster county. The assumption by management of responsibility for good employee health standards is indicative of the type community cooperation in disease control which will eventually enable us to realize our goal."

Katherine M. Murphy, R.N., executive secretary of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health

Association, urged all employees who were absent during the project to appear for free chest X-rays when the mobile unit locates for operation in Kingston during the early fall. Announcement was also made to the effect that plans were under way for the initial phases of the Kingston survey at which time it is expected that an all-out campaign of publicity and promotion will be conducted.

NEW LOOK IN BABY CLOTHES!

A grandmother asks: "What is the 'new look' in a christening dress? Is it true the real christening dresses no longer are put on a baby? My granddaughter insists babies now wear their regular white dresses and that the others have definitely gone out."

Long elaborate christening dresses no longer are considered the necessity that they once were, but those who have them in their families certainly use them.

Wedding Announcements Not Usually Sent to "EX"

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it improper to send announcement of an ex-husband's marriage to his first wife? I am the first wife and was hurt not to have received one. Our marriage was of long duration and ended amicably.

Answer: I can't imagine anything more shocking than the sending of such an announcement.

When Introducing, Use Professional Titles

Dear Mrs. Post: At a banquet the other evening, the master of ceremonies introduced a husband and wife (both doctors) as "Doctor and Mrs. Jones." Was this introduction correct? If not, how should they have been introduced?

Answer: If both are practicing, they should be introduced as "Dr. Henry Jones and Dr. Jane Jones. If the wife no longer is practicing, she might prefer to be called "Mrs.," socially.

Asking Guests to Say Grace

Dear Mrs. Post: We're not in the habit of saying grace before meals. When people visit us, should they be asked to say it or should we just skip it entirely?

Answer: If a clergyman is at your table, you naturally ask him to say grace. Otherwise, you do not ask anyone.

Folding Wedding Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: Should wedding invitations be folded so that the engraved page is on the outside or on the inside?

Answer: Inside.

Mrs. Post has written a leaflet about the Christening of the new baby. Ask for leaflet, E-36, "The New Baby." To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Fat Salvage Important Job

Salvaging used kitchen fat is a little job, but a mighty important one. Scrape, scoop and skim all used kitchen fat when you broil, fry and boil. Our government tells us that world shortages of fats and oils are still critical, and it's up to every American homemaker to waste no used fats.

Has Stellar Role On Maverick Stage

KAY DAWN

Woodstock, July 27—"The Would Be Gentleman," Moliere's amusing farce, will be presented by Tom Ruddy at the Maverick Summer Theatre beginning this evening and continuing through Sunday, with Kay Dawn in the leading role as the marchioness.

The largest cast seen on the Maverick stage this season will be used in the current play, taking the basis characters and situations created by Moliere and adapting them into a three-act farce.

Bob Gust directs the production and will appear in the cast. Others in the cast are Helen Bernstein, Allan Brown, Patty Gilmore, Cliff Kierwan, Allan Randall and Kathy Guilford.

Library Fair Will Be Big Event 29th

Woodstock, July 28—On ordinary days in this community, the village and surrounding spots are great visiting places in the late afternoon. These days, however, just prior to the library fair, most everyone is en route to the collection center at the school house. Every morning and every afternoon cars may be seen driving in that direction, stopping and unloading the most interesting items. Here the ladies sort and price and make everything ready for Thursday afternoon, July 29, from 2 to 6 when the fair will be held on the lawn in front of the library.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 28 (AP)—The stock market quietly stepped up a rung or two on the price ladder today.

A liberal handful of issues balked at the ascent but gains of fractions to around 2 points were in the majority.

Trading slackened after fairly rapid opening business.

Corporation news and foreign developments claimed a larger share of attention as the market shrugged off the President's message to Congress yesterday.

Wright Aeronautical again took a place at the head of the advance.

The stock gained around 4 points after Tuesday's mark-up of around 14 points. Favorable dividend action spurred buying.

Also higher were Pacific Western Oil, Mission Corp., Pure Oil, Atlantic Coast Line, Santa Fe, Goodyear, Kennecott Copper, American Smelting, Doan's, J. C. Penney, Phillips Morris, and United Airlines.

Losers included International Harvester, Schenley, American Safety Razor, Union Pacific and Gulf Oil.

U. S. Government issues tended to slip in the over-the-counter market.

could shut off debate by getting a two-thirds vote for "closure."

But in this case the right certain business before the Senate was the approval of the journal of yesterday's proceedings. That involves motions—which the experts say are not subject to closure as are bills themselves.

Thus the Senators—by proposing corrections in the journal—can talk until doomsday if they choose.

Several House G.O.P. chieftains said privately the present plan to run the Senate into a filibuster that may last several weeks and then adjourn Congress with an announcement that the Democrats were to blame for blocking action on other bills.

Meanwhile, the House Banking Committee will give the promised "consideration" to the anti-inflation bills. It has scheduled hearings starting tomorrow.

But Republicans predicted that after extensive hearings, the committee will conclude that the preponderance of evidence is against enacting the President's program.

A possible clue to this strategy was given in the joint G.O.P. statement, which blamed high prices on the Democratic administration and said:

"It is our view that the restoration of O.P.A., subsidies, price control and rationing  would only make things worse."

The President had asked for some price controls now, limited rationing and wage control authority, and a new excess profits tax.

Colonials Stop Chiefs, 3-2, Behind Kania, for Third Straight

Kobesky's 14th Decides Game; Poughkeepsie Here Tonight

Billy "The Kid" Ostrom, a fabulous pre-war pitching figure in Kingston, comes back "home" tonight at municipal stadium but no conquering hero's acclaim awaits the gifted, eccentric Poughkeepsie southpaw.

Instead he faces the wrath of a Kingston Colonial club that last night knocked the Poughkeepsie Chiefs out of first place in the Colonial League with a richly earned 3 to 2 victory at Riverview Field.

Joe Kania and Manager Eddie Kobesky collaborated for the impressive win—Kingston's third in a row—that gave positive indication the Colonial pitching corps has steadied itself for the climb into the post-season playoffs. At the moment the Colonials are only two and a half games behind the fourth place Bridgeport Bees and coming on fast.

Kobesky Nicks 14th

Kobesky's 14th homer of the season, a towering smash over the 350-foot marker of the left field fence, proved to be the winning run as the Chiefs rallied with single runs in the seventh and eighth stanzas after trailing 3-0.

Kania doled out seven hits, three to catcher Hal Leach, and pitched out of a serious jam in the eighth. He walked two and struck out three.

Kobesky kept his average well over .400 with another "3 for 3" performance, socking a pair of singles and his homer. Ralph Matzer and Max Goldsmith each had two safeties, as Kingston routed Ell Peterlie, one of the Chiefs' mainstays and backed up 11 hits.

Colonials Score Early

The Colonials struck quickly in the first and Peterlie was lucky to escape with only one run. Matzer singled, stole second after McNamara fled out and raced to centerfield. Butka chased him across with a single to left. Kobesky kept the rally alive with his first hit but Goldsmith fanned and Elenchin grounded out.

With two out in the second, Kania, Matzer and McNamara rocked solid singles for a 2-0 margin. Kobesky made it 3-0 in the sixth.

Chiefs Threaten

Quimby's triple to deep left center and Fasiska's infield out broke the ice for Poughkeepsie in the seventh. The real threat occurred in the eighth. Thommaier walked with one out. Derrico and Lukasink singled for a 3-2 score. Kania's wild pitch advanced the runners to second and third.

Kania pitched three straight balls to Joe DeToia, the Chiefs' slugger, who slammed the 3-0 pitch straight at Ralph Matzer who chased the runners back and tossed out DeToia. Quimby followed with a tremendous blast to deep right center where Kobesky made a sensational running catch.

snuff out the rally. Kania turned back the Chiefs in order in the ninth.

Brilliant Billy Returns

The 1947 pitching and batting leader of the Colonial Baseball League, and a pre-war Kingston pitching favorite, Billy "The Kid" Ostrom will be wearing a Poughkeepsie Chief uniform at municipal stadium tonight. He's still a superb pitcher and fine batter. But the Colonials are hot and Billy may find the door slammed in his face. Fireworks start at 8:30.

Mexican League Retrenches; Losses Estimated $500,000

Mexico City, July 28 (AP)—The Mexican Baseball League, which three years ago lured many players from the major leagues in the United States, has dropped its two biggest money losers—San Luis Potosi and Tampico—in a surprise financial reorganization.

Millionaire Jorge Pasquel's league will finish the season with only four clubs. Out of town parks will close, and all games will be played in Mexico City where it is believed there are enough fans to save the league from bankruptcy. In announcing the move last night, Pasquel blamed an unusual number of rainouts and devaluation of the peso for the season's bad boxoffice. He explained many contracts with foreign players are in dollars at the old 485 to one exchange. The peso's recent fall to over six to the dollar was the final blow, he said.

Pasquel said players from San Luis Potosi and Tampico would be divided up among the remaining clubs: His own Veracruz, Mexico City, Monterrey and Puebla. He indicated dollar contracts would continue to be paid, but at the old 485 pesos to the dollar rate.

Loss $500,000
Though the league has not published figures, baseball circles said losses were at least 2,500,000 pesos ($500,000) in the past three seasons. Rosters were erased of expensive imported players after a costly 1946 season when eight clubs formed the league. Two still could not make the financial grade, and 1947 was played with six clubs.

In 1947 losses were reported cut to 500,000 pesos ($100,000), but this season deficits are believed once again to be going mounting.

Among the former major league players currently in Mexico are Harry Feldman, George Hausman, Roy Zimmerman, Adrian Zabala, Ace Adams, all of the New York Giants; Red Hayworth, St. Louis Browns; Luis Olmo, Brooklyn Dodgers; Bobby Estalela, Philadelphia Athletics; Olivio Ornel.

Ex-KHS Star Stops Morgan's, 7 to 1 With Three Hitter

Chez Emile moved into first place in the torrid City League race yesterday when Clark Mains three-hit Morgan's Restaurant into submission, 7 to 1, before one of the largest crowds of the season.

Morgan's, leaders since the early stages of the campaign, found themselves tumbled into fourth place in the scramble of changing positions.

Mains was the cold, precise workman of Kingston High School fame yesterday. He had a two-hit shutout going into the seventh when Morgan's clocked out an unearned tally to avert the ignominy of a shutout. The blond automaton struck out six.

Fisher Routed
Tommy Fisher, pride of the Morgan pitching staff, was shelled out of the box during a five-run Chez Emile barrage in the fifth inning. Artie Barnes and Bud Swarthout mopped up.

Chez Emile's lead is a half game over Jones Dairy and Boulevard Gulf. Actually there is a quadruple tie in the loss column. The new leaders have won seven out of ten.

Dulin's leadoff single greeted Fisher in the first inning and a steal and Bill Tierney's error quickly racked up a 1-0 lead for the winners. Smith's walk, a wild pitch and Mains' safety made it 2-0 in the second.

Score Five Times
The Beer Barons bunched five singles and were aided by Tierney's error and a walk in the big five run rally in the fifth. It all happened thusly: Smith singled, Mains singled and both advanced on Tierney's second error of the game. Then came a walk to Dulin forcing in a run and successive safeties by Vertetis, Bill Bush and Joe Shattan.

Bud Swarthout accounted for Morgan's lone marker in the seventh with a single, steal of second, Gill's error and St

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Trap Trump Queen For Success Here

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

Written for NEA Service

The south will be well represented at the summer session of the national championships tournament, which starts this weekend in Chicago. Southerners have been very successful in recent national tournaments.

The Memphis delegation will be headed by M. A. Lightman, who operates a movie theatre chain in the south. Lightman and Robert Appleyard of Forest Hills, N. Y., won the world championship masters pair event in 1945, and Lightman will be in there trying to win
it again this year.

He had a little job trapping
East's queen of trumps in today's hand, but he finally got it and made his contract. The opening lead of the queen of hearts was trumped in dummy with the three of spades. The ten of spades was led and East refused to cover.

the six of spades.

Now the last trump was played from dummy and again East refused to go up with the queen; so Lightman finessed the nine-spot, which held. It now looked as if there was no way to pick up the queen.

However, Lightman led the ten of diamonds overtook in dummy with the jack, played the ace of diamonds and discarded his king of hearts. Then he just continued to ruff, because he knew that Lightman would over-ruff, pick up the queen, go over to the ace of clubs in dummy and cash all the good diamonds.

Therefore, Lightman had the pleasure of discarding all of his clubs, including the king and queen. Then he led the ace of clubs and East was forced to trump. Lightman overtrumped and won the last trick with the ace of spades.

Los Angeles, July 28 (AP)—For a consideration, actress Kay Williams has dismissed the divorce suit she filed recently against sugar heir Adolph Spreckels, Jr., their attorneys have announced. Tammany No Influence

New York, July 28 (AP)—Spurning Democratic overtures for an alliance in the contest for New York county surrogate, the American Labor party has formally entered its own candidate in the race. The action came yesterday when the A.L.P. filed acceptance of its candidate, O. John Rogge, former assistant United States attorney general, with the board of elections. Tammany Hall Chief-tain Hugo E. Rogers vainly continued efforts up to the actual time of filing to have the A.L.P. drop support for Rogge, and back General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen, the Democratic designee.
